

GREAT BRITAIN'S WATERS DECLARED WAR ZONE, AFTER FEBRUARY 18. BY GERMAN

Admiralty at Berlin Issues Communication in Which Additional Restrictions Are Made and Warnings Are Issued That Enemy's Ships Will Be Destroyed—Shipping in Danger.

DECISIVE BATTLE IN REGION OF DUKLA

Russian Pressure Is Being Felt in the Passes, Says the Bureau Report From Amsterdam—Socialists in House of Deputies Aid in the Fight to Prohibit the Sale of Absinthe.

ENGLISH WATERS IN WAR ZONE.

Berlin, Feb. 4.—The German admiralty today issued the following communications:

"The waters around Great Britain and Ireland, including the whole of the English Channel and coast zone from east of February 18, 1915, are declared war zone. Every enemy ship found in this war zone will be destroyed, even if it is impossible to avert dangers which threaten the crew and passengers."

"Also, neutral ships in the war zone are in danger, as, in consequence of the misuse of neutral flags ordered by the British government on January 31 and in view of the hazards of naval warfare, it cannot always be avoided that attacks meant for enemy ships endanger neutral ships."

"Shipping northward, around the Shetland Islands, in the eastern basin of the North Sea, and in a strip of at least thirty nautical miles in breadth along the Dutch coast is endangered in the same way."

BATTLE IN REGION OF DUKLA.

Amsterdam, via London, Feb. 5, 12:50 a. m.—The Austro-Hungarian war press has issued the following:

"Artillery and infantry fighting continues along the Mida river. We evacuated Tarnow (Galicia) after the Russians bombarded the place with heavy mortars."

"A decisive battle is being fought in the region of Dukla, where strong Russian pressure is felt in the direction of Dukla Pass and neighboring passes. The fighting in the Carpathians is being seriously interfered with by the deep snow."

SOCIALISTS SUPPORT NON-ABSINTHE BILL.

Paris, Feb. 4.—The socialists in the chamber of deputies have decided to support the bill prohibiting the sale of absinthe, the discussion of which was postponed today pending a settlement of the question of reimbursing dealers who will be affected. The retail dealers also have decided to support the measure.

An unidentified woman who threw papers from the gallery into the chamber of deputies during the debate on the bill today was arrested. She says she is a Russian and appears to be mentally unbalanced.

Turks' Attack on Suez Canal.

London, Feb. 4.—The Turks at last have made a definite attack on the Suez canal but after a sharp fight they were driven off with heavy losses.

After a fruitless attempt made on Tuesday night to bridge the canal near Toussoum they returned to the attack early yesterday morning with a force estimated at twelve thousand strong and six batteries of artillery and essayed to get across the waterway on rafts. The British force, however, was waiting and the invaders were forced back, leaving about three hundred prisoners in the hands of the defenders. A considerable number of the Turks were killed and wounded. The British lost 15 killed and 53 wounded.

The attack was renewed by the Turks at El Kantara, but this met with no greater success than the other attempt, the Turkish losses in killed, wounded and prisoners numbering upwards of a hundred.

The New Zealand contingent and presumably the Australians took part in the battles, the New Zealanders having two casualties. Compared with the battles in Poland and the Carpathians this is a mere flash!

SUMMARY OF WAR NEWS.

The German admiralty in declaring a war zone of the waters around Great Britain and Ireland, including the whole English channel from February 18, announces that "every enemy merchant ship found in this war zone will be destroyed, even if it is not always possible to avoid danger to crew and passengers."

A warning is issued that neutral ships in the war zone are also in danger and the state department at Washington has been notified by Germany that American vessels should avoid the north and west coasts of France.

The British foreign office in a statement bearing on Germany's action intimates that possibly Great Britain may undertake retaliatory measures, saying:

"The apparent intention of the German government to sink merchant ships by submarines without bringing them into port or providing accommodation for their crews and regardless of the loss of civilian lives, has raised very seriously the question whether Great Britain should adopt more stringent measures against German trade."

No decision has yet been taken on this matter.

In the same statement the British government announces that should the American steamer Wilmington be intercepted it will send the cargo of foodstuffs, which is destined for Germany, into a prize court. The vessel will not be molested.

Some of the heaviest fighting of the war is taking place in Russian Poland and Galicia. Hundreds of thousands of Germans and Russians are locked in the deadly struggle before Warsaw. The German commander, Field Marshal von Hindenburg, is reported to be pouring in a strategic point guarding the Polish capital has become the scene of a bitter contest. From the Russian viewpoint, Germany has gained a strategic advantage along this line and the Russians have even succeeded in capturing one of the small towns to the east of Lodz.

Austria seemingly has met a serious reverse, for according to the Austro-Hungarian war press bureau received by way of Amsterdam, she has been compelled to evacuate the imperial bombardment by Russia's heavy artillery.

The Russian and German emperors will soon be at the front again. Emperor Nicholas has already started inspecting the fleet at Wilhelmshaven, it is announced, will proceed to the fighting lines in a day or two, but which front is not mentioned.

The Russian and British hospital ship Asturias, which has just arrived at Plymouth, says that the ship was saved from being struck by a German torpedo off Havre by her captain quickly altering the course of his ship when he saw the white track in the water made by the propeller of the torpedo.

The Japanese cruiser Asama, which has been on patrol duty in the Pacific, is a total wreck and the Lower California coast. It is said there was no loss of life.

New Zealand sheds have just been completed near the German-Belgian frontier and Zeppelin and Parseval airships and numerous aeroplanes daily are maneuvering in that neighborhood.

Rains in Gulf States for Friday, Says Government

Washington, Feb. 4.—The western storm was central Thursday night over Iowa and moving east. It already has caused rains in the Mississippi valley and snow over the plains states. Rains have again set in on the north Pacific coast and there were snows Wednesday night on the middle Atlantic and southern New England coast.

The temperature has risen decidedly in the Gulf states, the great central states and the lake region, and it has fallen on the east slope of the Rocky mountains. Comparatively low temperatures continued during Thursday in the eastern states.

There will be rains Friday throughout the east Gulf states, the Ohio valley and the region of the lower lakes, and by Friday night and on Saturday through the Atlantic states. Rain changing to snow is indicated for the upper lake region and the upper Mississippi valley on Friday and Saturday. In other parts of the fair on Friday and Saturday except that there will be rains in the north Pacific states.

The temperature will rise on Friday and probably on Saturday throughout the Atlantic states and on Friday in the upper Ohio valley and the lower lake region. It will fall on Friday in the plains states on Friday and Saturday in the Mississippi valley and the Gulf states, and on Saturday in the upper lake region and in the Ohio valley.

CHAMP CLARK RE-ELECTED.

Washington, Feb. 4.—Democrats elected to the house in the 64th congress tonight unanimously nominated Speaker Clark to succeed himself and Representative Claude Kitchin of North Carolina to become chairman of the ways and means committee and majority floor leader when Representative Underwood goes to the senate.

Enthusiastic applause and cheering greeted the selections, both of which were by acclamation and the speaker and Representative Kitchin responded with speeches urging democratic harmony.

The caucus named all of the re-elected members of the ways and means committee and chose the following to fill vacancies:

Representatives Crisp, Georgia; Oldfield, Arkansas; Casey, Pennsylvania; Allen, Ohio; McGillicuddy, Maine, and Helvering, Kansas.

The makeup of the committee follows the usual plan of having the democratic representation on the committee equally divided between the north and south.

COLOQUITT'S PUNCH ITEM UNDER PROBE

ATTORNEY GENERAL WILL BE ASKED TO INVESTIGATE GOVERNOR'S MANSION BILLS.

Austin, Feb. 4.—The Texas house of representatives is eager to learn more about the item of "salad and punch" furnished the gubernatorial mansion during the incumbency of Governor Colquitt, and Representative Middleton will offer a resolution calling for full information on the subject from the attorney general's office. The objectionable items are in the general deficiency appropriation bill which has been passed with amendments by the house.

The resolution reads as follows: Be it resolved, by the house of representatives of the state of Texas: That the attorney general be and he is hereby requested to examine the items of the deficiency for the governor's mansion ending Aug. 13, 1915, and if any items therein included are not proper charges against the state to take such steps as are necessary to secure the return of the money paid for such items to the state treasurer.

Hill, Payne, Williams of Hopkins, Watson, Maddox, Blackburn, Harris, Middleton, McMillan, Thompson, Stewart, Boner, Boll, Wynn, Tipton, Grindstaff, Rich, Tinner, Vanvo, signed the resolution.

"We will put them on record directly," said Middleton tonight, "as to whether they believe that the state should pay for Colquitt's punch."

An investigation on conditions at the University of Texas by legislative committee of five members will be ordered tomorrow, if either of two resolutions which went over from today as pending business is passed. A letter from President Battle was read in which the request for such an investigation was made in the name of the faculty. The letter pointed out that investigation of the statements made by the committee on education during the anti-trust hearing, such a probe should be made in justice to the university.

The specific charges by the anti-trust committee were that the majority of the professors are northern men and in many ways they discriminate in favor of fraternity men.

An attempt to have a bill passed abolishing fraternities at the university started the row. The bill was reported favorably by committee by a vote of 9 to 5. Floor gave notice of a minority report.

The full crew bill was reported out of committee today and the indications are that it will be the cause of a bitter contest in the house.

The bill of Senator Bailey of Harris, placing navigation, drainage, irrigation and road districts in counties of 110,000 population or more, under the jurisdiction of the county auditor, was engrossed in the house today.

Four new district courts were created by the legislature this afternoon, when the senate passed four senate bills providing for a court at Wichita Falls, one at El Paso, one at Limestone, Freestone and Navarro counties, and one in Marion, Morris, Tarrant and Franklin counties.

A bill by Burton of Rock, Rusk and Furr, providing for the creation of five junior colleges for instruction in agriculture, horticulture, animal husbandry and kindred subjects, and a joint resolution by McFarland, submitting a constitutional amendment changing the school from a state to a county tax, are expected to give interest to Friday's session.

"Jitne" Loaf Doomed, Say Waco Bakers

The "jitne" loaf is doomed in Waco. Commencing March 1, if not before, one of the largest bakeries in the city will cease baking a loaf that will sell for five cents. Other bakers express themselves as preparing to do the same.

"The five cent loaf now is as small as we can make it. Two ounces were taken off some time ago. We now will be forced to sell only ten-cent loaves and cut them down to a proportionate size," was the statement of one baker. Flour that in normal times cost the baker $4.25 a barrel now costs him $5.50.

One baker said yesterday: "My trade is mostly retail. I have cut out selling tickets and get 5 cents straight for my loaves. I am losing money and cannot continue to do so. I will be forced to raise the price soon." Doing away with the nickel loaf will seriously injure the small baker's business, in the opinion of some of the wholesale bakers. The small baker depends largely on the sale of 5-cent loaves.

Women Must End the War

MRS. HAVELock ELLIS.

"Polygamy will not be the aftermath of the war. Women must end war by educating their boys to serve their country in a better way than by war. This war will have a good effect on the civic values and the love values." So says Mrs. Havelock Ellis, wife of the noted psychologist, who is lecturing in America. Mrs. Ellis is a Lancashire woman and has worked out her economic romance she says, "It is to have just as little law and compulsion about the relations of husband and wife as is possible."

INQUIRY INTO AFFAIR AT MARSHALL BEGINS

Marshall, Tex., Feb. 4.—At the conclusion of the preliminary hearing before Justice Frank Young here tonight into the shooting here last night which resulted in the death of William Black, traveling lecturer, and John Rogers, local contractor, and possibly fatal wounding of John Copeland, the principals were ordered held under bond for the grand jury.

George Ryan was released on $10,000 bond; George Tier, $5,000 and Clarence F. Hall, $2,500. Ryan, Rogers, Copeland and Tier, it was agreed by all the witnesses, called on Black who claimed to be an ex-priest of the Catholic church, and demanded that he cease his attacks upon that church and leave town. This Black refused to do, saying he would lecture again last night. Hall, whose home is St. Paul, Minn., was traveling with Black, who registered here from Bellaire, Ohio.

The case against Walter Verhalen of Marshall, in connection with the affair, was dismissed, and a warrant was sworn out for another local man who had not been arrested tonight.

At the hearing today deputy sheriffs searched spectators, the justice having ordered no fire arms allowed in the court room.

Ryan, Hall and Miss Sadie Black, adopted daughter of the lecturer, were the only witnesses called.

Ryan's testimony was that Rogers, after Black had refused the demand to leave town, went to the back of his finger in Black's face and said: "You won't lecture here tonight."

"Black then reached toward his hip pocket," said Ryan, "and as he did so Hall shot Rogers."

Ryan testified that other shots followed, Hall backing into a bath room and shooting Copeland from through the door.

Testimony of Hall and Miss Black was to the effect that the local men started the shooting.

Date in Texarkana.

Texarkana, Ark., Feb. 4.—William Black, the anti-Catholic lecturer, who was killed at Marshall, Texas, last night, was to have lectured in Texarkana tonight under the auspices of the Knights of Luther. When this organization today secured Billy Parker, a co-worker of Black, to fill the engagement, local Knights of Columbus secured an injunction prohibiting Parker from speaking in the county court house. The meeting was then transferred to the city hall on the Texas side.

Crane Company Pays State of Texas Fine of $75,000 and Quits

Groesbeck, Feb. 4.—The suit of the state of Texas against the Crane company for penalties for alleged violation of the anti-trust laws was compromised in the Thirteenth district court here. The Crane company paid penalties aggregating $75,000, costs of court, and costs of the attorney general and local counsel in the prosecution of the suit. The state also took an injunction against the Crane company for all illegal acts alleged in the petition, restraining that company from repeating such acts.

The state's suit was based on the charge that a price agreement had been entered into for the sale of plumbing and pipe goods by the Crane company, the alleged agreement being with Ahrens & Ott. The latter firm settled its case with the state some months ago.

J. M. McCormick of Dallas, and L. M. Seay of Groesbeck, represented the Crane company, and C. A. Sweeton and Walter Keating of the attorney general's department, and C. S. Bradley, J. S. Bradley, M. Herring, W. T. Jackson of Groesbeck, represented the state.

Company to Withdraw.

Chicago, Feb. 4.—The Crane company is withdrawing from business in Texas of its own volition, according to its officials, discussing today the settlement of suits brought against it under the anti-trust laws of Texas. The officials say their compromise would have permitted their continuing business in the state, but that they preferred to withdraw. Notices stating the company's position will be given out in Dallas in a few days, it was said.

Secretary Sent to Prison.

New York, Feb. 4.—William V. Thompson, confidential secretary of William L. Harkness of the Standard Oil company, who pleaded guilty to stealing $35,000 from his employer, was today sentenced to from two years and six months to four years and six months in Sing Sing. Thompson told the court that he wanted to make restitution but that he had spent $25,000 of the money in jewels and other luxuries on an actress, who has disappeared.

JUDGES WAIT FEEDING OF PRISONERS TAKEN OUT OF HANDS OF THE SHERIFFS

Quentin D. Corley of Dallas Advocates That Persons Confined in Jails Be Fed by Other Than Chief Peace Officer of County When Commissioners Deem It Best.

PRESIDENT OF ASSOCIATION CHARGES GRAFT

Hunnitt of Marlin Says Just One-tenth of Money Taken in Ten Years Would Equal the Amount Spent on Public Roads—One Hundred and Fifty Present at the Initial Session.

Passage of a law, allowing the county commissioners' court to take the matter of feeding county prisoners out of the hands of the sheriff, when deemed necessary, was advocated by County Judge Quentin D. Corley of Dallas at yesterday afternoon's session of the County Judges and Commissioners' Association. At the morning session Judge W. E. Hunnitt of Marlin, president of the association, charged that the graft in county governments had been so enormous that one-tenth of the money wasted that way in the last ten years would more than equal the amount spent on the public roads.

About 150 members of the association were present when Judge Hunnitt called the convention to order. The meetings were held in the Fifty-fourth district court room. C. D. Smith of Dallas was appointed secretary pro tem, the secretary, F. T. Woodward of Dallas, having died during the year. Addresses of welcome by Mayor J. W. Higgins and County Judge George N. Denton and the responses by President Hunnitt consumed the remainder of the morning session.

"Feeding County Prisoners" and "Best Methods of Building and Maintaining Dirt Roads" were discussed yesterday afternoon. At the conclusion of the afternoon session the convention photograph was taken on the east steps of the court house. The visitors were entertained last night at the Y. M. B. L. rooms and will be taken for an automobile ride over the city and out to see the work on the new highways at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

"Graveled Roads and How to Get Them," "The Value of a Highway Engineer in Building Roads," "Organization of County Highway Department," and "How Can We Relieve the Jails of the Insane and Epileptics" were the topics to be discussed today. The morning session will begin at 9 o'clock. Selection of the next place of meeting and election of officers take place this afternoon.

The invocation yesterday morning was pronounced by Dr. E. E. Ingram, Mayor Higgins said he believed county judges and commissioners could do a great deal to interest the people in crop diversification and that this was what was most needed in Texas at this time. He heartily welcomed them to the city. Judge Denton spoke of the roads being built in this county and promised the visitors that the Y. M. B. L. and Chamber of Commerce would show them a good time while they were here. "The Y. M. B. L. is about the biggest thing in Texas," he declared. Judge Denton joined Mayor Higgins in welcoming the visitors to Waco.

After thanking Mayor Higgins and Judge Denton for their words of welcome, President Hunnitt said he believed it was about time the people of Texas were getting better value for their money. He advocated an audit for all county and state departments and made the assertion that ten times the amount of money had been dissipated by grafting as that spent on the public roads. He also said that he believed an investigation would show that enough money had been stolen from the state and the counties in the last decade to have built and maintained every state eleemosynary institution in Texas.

There is an enormous graft in the feeding of county prisoners was claimed by Judge Quentin D. Corley of Dallas, speaking on the subject, "Feeding County Prisoners." He suggested that the association pass a resolution asking the legislature to pass a law making it optional with the commissioners' court to take charge of the feeding of prisoners whenever they deem it necessary.

It costs Dallas county between $24,000 and $25,000 a year to feed county prisoners in jail, he said. The sheriff is paid 40 cents per day for each prisoner. When a prisoner is put in after supper and taken out the next morning before breakfast, he said some sheriffs charged for two full days' board, although not a mouthful had been eaten. In March, 1914, he said seven convict camps with 151 convicts and thirty-five guards had been maintained by the commissioners' court of Dallas county. Good, wholesome food was furnished, he claimed, yet the expense per man per day was only 18 1/3 cents, while the sheriff was collecting 40 cents per day for those in jail at the same time. The men in the convict camps were given three meals a day and those in jail only two meals per day, he said.

"The Sheriff's Association of Texas is the biggest political organization in Texas," declared J. W. Woods, ex-county judge from Seguin. "I believe the commissioners' court has power to right evils that exist though and it should force the sheriffs to do the right thing, when they are not doing their duty. But I tell you right now that it is something of a job, as we found out in Guadalupe county by experience."

Judge T. F. Temple of Weatherford said he thought the sheriff was at fault if it allowed the collection of two days' board for jail prisoners when not a meal had been served. "If the prisoner comes in after supper and goes out before breakfast, the sheriff should not receive a red cent for feeding him," he declared. He said that to such trouble existed in Tarrant county and that there were more than eight persons in jail at one time there. He said he did not believe a conscientious sheriff would charge for what was not right.

Commissioner William Dickey of Temple said it was "A sin on justice, honesty and humanity to charge two days' board when the prisoner had not had a bite." He said he believed the convention should go on record as favoring a law, giving the commissioners power to take over the feeding of prisoners, when it was deemed necessary. "There is no use in paying a county official $5,000 or $7,000 a year when the man he defeats is tickled to get a job at $125 a month," he concluded.

Judge H. E. Bell of Gatesville said that he did not believe the practice complained of existed in any of the counties except a few of the larger ones, that it was not a fight against the sheriffs or the sheriffs' association and that he believed most of the sheriffs would not fight the proposition.

"When you tackle one sheriff you're breaking into a hornet's nest," said Judge Hunnitt. "Many sheriffs feel like they own the jail and everything that goes with it. The commissioners' courts should be more vigilant and help the sheriff in keeping his accounts down."

"I don't believe in letting anybody make a profit off a man who can't help himself," said Commissioner Jim Shilds of Dallas. "The last sheriff in Dallas county held office for four years. He was a poor man when he went in. He stopped me on the street the other day and told me of a trade he was making. He said he was trading $20,000 worth of property in Dallas county held office for four years and paying the balance in money. It's up to us to do what we can to come to the tax payer's relief."

On motion of Judge J. T. Maloney of Bryan, a resolution was adopted to consider this and other matters appointed by President Hunnitt. It is composed of the following: Judge J. Q. Henry of Del Rio, Judge H. E. Bell of Gatesville, and Judge J. W. Woods of Seguin.

The discussion of "Best Methods of Building and Maintaining Dirt Roads" was opened by Judge J. T. Maloney of Brazos county. He said that there were many kinds of soil in his county, that sand roads were found the best in wet weather and clay roads in dry weather. The combination of the two materials in sand-clay roads made a first-class highway, he declared. The most essential thing, he said, was drainage. Having a county engineer, he suggested, was as important as having a county surveyor.

Japanese Cruiser Asama Wrecks off Western Coast

Washington, Feb. 4.—The Japanese cruiser Asama, carrying 500 men, has been wrecked and is breaking up off the western coast of Lower California, according to advices today to the navy department. The dispatch did not state whether the crew had been rescued.

Rear Admiral Howard, commanding the American fleet in the Pacific, who reported the wreck in a brief message from his flagship, was ordered to send whatever aid was available. Department officials thought tonight the cruiser Raleigh, off San Diego, Cal., yesterday, probably would be the first to reach the wreck.

American naval vessel to reach the scene. Admiral Howard said the Asama was about 350 miles south of Port San Bartolome, but inquiries for further details regarding her had brought no response up to late tonight.

The Asama, an armored cruiser of 8750 tons, was built in 1905. For several months she has been patrolling the eastern Pacific. Early in the war she forced the German gunboat Geier to intern at Honolulu by taking up a position outside the harbor there while the Geier was in port for provisions.

The gunboat Yorickton at Ensenada was nearer the scene of the wreck than any other American naval vessel, but navy officials said she probably would not start for the scene of the wreck.

United States Makes Sure of Werner Horn With Jail Sentence

Vanceboro, Me., Feb. 4.—Pending a determination at Washington of his political status, the state today made sure of the custody of Werner Horn, the bridge dynamiter, by causing him to be sentenced for 30 days in the county jail. It is expected that before the expiration of this period he will be surrendered to the federal authorities for a hearing on the application for his extradition to Canada, filed by the British ambassador, Sir Cecil Spring-Rice.

The complaint was made by Deputy Sheriff George Ross, who was anxious to get the prisoner off his hands and had been promised the support of the state attorney general's office in the procedure. He alleged that when Horn discharged an explosive under the Canadian end of the Canadian Pacific railway bridge over the St. Croix river, he maliciously damaged property in this town, where windows in a few residences were broken by the concussion.

Horn was a willing party to the proceedings and pleaded guilty. Asked if he had anything to say, he replied in the negative, adding only, "My turn will come later."

Horn will be taken to the county jail at Machias tomorrow. Machias is almost directly south and by the shorter rail route distant about 75 miles. Half of the trackage of this line, however, is on Canadian soil. Accordingly Ross will take his man on a roundabout trip of 200 miles by way of Bangor.

Washington, Feb. 4.—Postmaster General Burleson today suspended the two-cent postage rates on mails from the United States to Germany and announced that until direct service was restored letters from this country to German destinations would be charged at a rate of five cents for the first ounce and three for each additional ounce.

Motion to pass immigration bill over the president's veto lost by a vote of 261 to 136 (two-thirds affirmative vote necessary).
Adjourned at 5:32 p. m. to 11 a. m. Friday.

Washington, Feb. 4.—Administration leaders in the senate were frustrated again today in their plan to recommit the government ship purchase bill with instructions for its amendment. Tonight they were considering a proposal to let the bill go to committee without instructions with a view to bringing it up again on a motion to discharge the committee if it should fail to act promptly.

Although no agreement was reached to proceed on this new line of action, the fact that the champions of the bill found themselves lacking at least two of a majority and with no possibility of changing this situation until next Monday at the earliest, led them to ponder over some other solution of the problem.

Sensors who favor the new plan pointed out that some of the progressive republicans and some of the insurgent democrats are pledged merely to vote for a motion to recommit the bill without instructions. From these they believe pledges of support could be procured for a subsequent motion to discharge the commerce committee from further consideration of the bill if it failed to return the measure with amendments recommended by the caucus.

Senator Fletcher in charge of the bill, said he would be willing to vote to recommit if he could have assurance of enough votes to carry a motion to discharge the committee. By such a plan, he said, the bill could be placed before the senate again as readily as through the passage of the motion to recommit with instructions.

Senator Fletcher said still another plan was being discussed but that it was not ready for relations. No other way out can be found administration senators purpose preventing any vote until Senators Newlands and Smith of South Carolina return to Washington next week. Then with the vote of 48 they could count upon Vice President Marshall to break a tie in their favor. All seven of the revolving democrats are standing firm with the republicans, so today the administration leaders, counting Senators La Follette, Ingham, and others, could only muster 48 votes, while the republicans had 48 votes in the capitol. The democrats had hoped to have enough strength to carry their point today, but the return of Senator Lewis of California, who was promptly offset by the arrival of Senator Fall of New Mexico and Senator Penrose, long absent on account of illness.

The republicans were jubilant over their second coup of the legislative struggle over the bill when the democrats were forced to take the floor to talk against time. Senator Reed spent most of the afternoon discussing the bill with the republicans and Senators Camden and Harwood, who are insurgent democrats defended their positions.

Some of the republican leaders were inclined to force the democrats into all night sessions, but they deemed this to be unwise, fearing the democrats might find some of the republican senators absent and press a vote.

Trustee for Whiskey House.
Louisville, Ky., Feb. 4.—Loans for approximately $50,000 said to have been secured from Chicago, Peoria and other banks on overlapping whiskey warehouse certificates has led the Mattingly & Moore Distilling company of Bardonia, N. Y., to place its affairs in the hands of a trustee, it was announced here today.

Errors in bookkeeping, it was said, were responsible for the existence of the certificates. They were discovered during an investigation of distilleries in this section after the death in Chicago of Charles Ledowsky, who committed suicide January 30 while under charges of embezzlement. Ledowsky, it was alleged, had obtained loans from banks for large amounts on fraudulent warehouse liquor receipts. The Mattingly and Moore situation, however, is declared to have no connection with Ledowsky's operations.

Rate Records Broken.
Portland, Ore., Feb. 4.—Charter rate records for Portland were broken today with the leasing by a shipping firm of the Japanese steamer Kendon Maru to load grain or flour here for the United Kingdom at 60 shillings per ton with the option of diverting the cargo to a Mediterranean port at a rate exceeding 67 shillings. The previous highest mark was established a week ago at 55 shillings.

The Kenken Maru, which is now on her way to San Francisco from Japan, will be the first Japanese vessel to take a cargo of grain or flour from Portland to Europe.

COLQUITT'S PUNCH ITEM UNDER PROBE

Information of the proceedings of legislative sessions of the Texas senate reach newspapers was ordered, when Senator Brelsford, rising to a question of personal privilege, quoted from an Austin newspaper a report purporting to give details as to the holding up of certain of Governor Ferguson's appointments at the executive session of Wednesday. The senator said there had been a grave violation of senate rules which made the holding of legislative sessions a travesty.

Senator McNealus and Westbrook joined Brelsford in denunciation of the exposure.

Hall said while he was opposed altogether to secret sessions, if the senate was to hold them, the rules should be enforced and their violation punished. Morrow defended the senate, but said if the senate cannot run them any better than had been the experience since he had been a member it will be better to abolish them.

Ree also said the proceedings should be absolutely protected. Gibson, Clark and Johnson also spoke. Brelsford sent up a resolution demanding investigation. Senators Brelsford, Hall and Conner were named a special committee and will begin the inquiry Friday.

Galveston was eliminated as the seat of the first court of civil appeals Thursday when the senate by a vote of 12 to 9, with one present and not voting and six absent or paired, passed finally the amendment bill establishing the first court of civil appeals at Beaumont and the Ninth court, the new one, at Houston.

Favorable report was made unanimously by the committee on stock and stock raising on the Hudspeth bill appropriating $100,000 for bounties for scalps of predatory animals. For wolf, lobo, panther, Mexican lion and such animals is $5 each, while for coyotes, wildcats and such the bounty is $1.

One bill introduced is for pensions to mothers of dependent and neglected children.

The world has known what Cottolene is for over a quarter of a century

Cottolene established a class of its own over a generation ago.

Cottolene was in the front rank of the great movement for bettering household service and for improving food products.

Cottolene has always held its place. There is nothing to which it may be compared.

There are no secrets in the production of Cottolene. Its manufacture and its constituents are as well known as the simplest things done in every kitchen.

Cottolene

Cottolene is an exact combination of the two finest cooking fats nature produces.

The cotton seed oil in Cottolene is pressed from selected seed—it is a grade so choice that it is not listed on the market. It is purer, sweeter and better in food value than most salad oils. The beef stearine is the product of the freshest, finest leaf beef suet known.

It is the exact combination of these two fats which gave Cottolene its high place over a quarter of a century ago, and which has held this place for it.

Cottolene is economical, but better than that it actually improves the quality and flavor of all foods cooked with it—whether it is used for shortening, frying or cake making.

Information of the proceedings of legislative sessions of the Texas senate reach newspapers was ordered, when Senator Brelsford, rising to a question of personal privilege, quoted from an Austin newspaper a report purporting to give details as to the holding up of certain of Governor Ferguson's appointments at the executive session of Wednesday. The senator said there had been a grave violation of senate rules which made the holding of legislative sessions a travesty.

Senator McNealus and Westbrook joined Brelsford in denunciation of the exposure.

Hall said while he was opposed altogether to secret sessions, if the senate was to hold them, the rules should be enforced and their violation punished. Morrow defended the senate, but said if the senate cannot run them any better than had been the experience since he had been a member it will be better to abolish them.

The committee of judiciary No. 1 will meet at 11 Monday morning to discuss action as to reporting out the Texas company bill.

A resolution by McNealus on the death of Dr. Rankin and extending sympathy to his family was adopted unanimously.

A delegation of capitalists and bankers from San Antonio was here today to learn from the hearing on the Robertson law repeal will come up, as they will come here to urge the passage of the repeal measure. The bill is receiving widespread support, but there will be a bitter fight against it.

Interurban Bill.

Austin, Feb. 4.—Senator Darwin's bill which proposes to place interurbans under the jurisdiction of the railroad commission was given consideration today before senate committee on internal improvements. Vories P. Brown of San Antonio, president of the San Antonio-Austin Interurban Railway company, which is now in course of promotion, appeared before the committee and protested against the passage of the bill. He declared there was no public demand for placing interurbans under control of the railroad commission.

Former State Senator Robert L. Warren of Kaufman county, stated that he did not believe that the people wanted such a law.

H. C. Kell took the same position. J. F. Strickland of Dallas, president of the Texas Traction company, Ed Kennedy of Houston, president of the Houston-Beaumont-Sugarland Traction company, and J. E. Cornish of Temple, with the Northwestern Traction company, appeared in opposition to the measure.

The committee reported unfavorably on the bill.

The committee reported favorably the McNealus bill which permits the consolidation of interurban and electric lines, also favorably the Robbins bill which allows the consolidation of local light and power companies.

Slush Fund Claim.

Austin, Feb. 4.—The senate committee on insurance this morning took up Senator Clark's claim that a slush fund had been raised by the insurance companies of the state to promote the passage of the present fire insurance commission law. Senator Clark made the statement that his charge was based on information he had received from Gus Russek of Schulenberg. Mr. Russek was at the hearing in support of Senator Clark's bill to repeal the present law and a telegram was read from James Cravens of Houston, in which Cravens said, among other things:

"We had some money in the hands of a committee at Dallas several years ago, left over. I think, when the fire prevention bureau was wound up, and my partner told me that the committee had decided to turn that money over to the local agents' association, who were promoting the rating bureau law."

Mr. Cravens denied emphatically the intimation that he had ever handed a slush fund for any person or purpose.

He said it was his impression that his company's share of the money turned over was six or seven hundred dollars, "but that is merely an impression and the amount may have been less," he said.

T. M. Monahan of Dallas, appeared before the committee and said that Mr. Cravens must undoubtedly be Birmingham Stockman Tells Why.

What Vitalitas Did After Twenty Years.

Many thousands of southern people are daily finding wonderful results from Vitalitas. This interesting statement made by a well known stock dealer of Birmingham, Mr. G. W. Welden, 1830 Jasper St., will be widely read:

"It is a pleasure for me to speak of your wonderful Vitalitas. I have been a sufferer for twenty years—stomach, kidney and liver troubles—trying every remedy that was recommended for such diseases. At times it would be impossible for me to ride a horse for four or five hours during a day. After taking the first Vitalitas it enabled me to stay in the saddle all day. It is undoubtedly the greatest remedy and I cannot say too much in praise of it."

Vitalitas is nature's most wonderful corrective and tonic for disorders generally of stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels and blood.

Rivers and Harbors Bill.

Washington, Feb. 4.—With an increase of $4,488,300 over the bill as it passed the house, the senate commerce committee today reported the rivers and harbors appropriation bill carrying a total of $38,627,880.

Senator Burton purposes fighting the bill as he did at the last session, if it is reached before adjournment.

Texas Company Bill.

Austin, Feb. 4.—Action may be taken on the Texas company bill during the afternoon session of the senate today. The hearing on the measure was concluded last night. The bill is before senate judiciary committee No. 1, which embraces the entire membership of the senate for this particular measure. Action, however, may be deferred until tonight. There is much opposition, it appears, to the bill.

A Single Application Banishes Every Hair

(The Modern Beauty.)
Here is how any woman can easily and quickly remove objectionable, hairy growths without possible injury to the skin: Make a paste with some powdered delatone and water, apply to hairy surface and after 2 or 3 minutes rub off, wash the skin and the hairs are gone. This is a painless, inexpensive method and, excepting where the growth is unusually thick, a single application is enough. You should, however, be careful to get genuine delatone.

Baylor Meets Rice Tonight and Hopes to Best the Owls

Baylor basketball team will meet the quintet of Rice Institute for her second game with the Owls in the girls' gymnasium at Baylor tonight at 8:30 o'clock. In the first round with the fledglings at Houston on a recent trip, the local Bears suffered a severe drubbing. Coach Mosley, however, is confident that with the training of the last few days, the Baptists will make a much better showing on their home court. Although one of the newest additions to the Texas collegiate athletic constellation, Rice has been making a strong showing against the older teams of the state and is reported to have an especially strong quintette this season. This will be the Owls' first appearance on a basketball court here. The Bears have put in the last few days attempting to plug in the links in their team work, and preparing for the game tonight.

THE SOCIAL NEEDLECRAFT HAS A BIRTHDAY PARTY

It was rather the matter of surprise that the hostess in prospect should deliberately change the day of meeting for the Social Needlecraft without consulting the powers that be. But Mrs. Sadler insisted that Wednesday be the day instead of Thursday. So Wednesday it was. The afternoon was spent as usual, until the luncheon plate passed. With this came a birthday cake, all agleam with candles, just sixteen, of course, for it was the birthday cake of the hostess. It was quite fun, but cut for the luck pieces. The ring went to Mrs. Bush, the thimble to Mrs. Martin and the

Pure Blood Makes Healthy People

Hood's Sarsaparilla surely and effectively removes scrofula, boils and other blood diseases because it drives out of the blood all the humors that cause these diseases. They cannot be successfully treated in any other way. External applications for their removal have proven almost useless, because they cannot drive out the impurities that are in the blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla makes pure rich blood, perfects the digestion and builds up the whole system. The skin becomes smooth, clean and healthy. This great blood remedy has stood the test for forty years. Insist on having Hood's, for nothing else acts like it. There is no real substitute. Get it today. Sold by all druggists.

MRS. CHARLES BOYNTON FOR MRS. THORNDYKE HOWE

In quite the informal but none the less pleasant way, Mrs. Charles Boynton gave account to the old home visit of Mrs. Thorndyke Howe from Massachusetts on Wednesday afternoon. This was just a little informal tea as the invitations said. It became quite the sociable tea with many pretty details. In the tea room Mrs. Ben Gray, Kendall presided at a table abloom with the daffodowdilly and aglow with the gleam of candle in same tone. In the living room there was a bloom of leatuty in the flowers sent by those invited to remain during the receiving hours. About forty called to claim their privilege in this welcome to Mrs. Howe and the hospitality of Mrs. Boynton.

BENEFIT FOR PHILO CLUB PROGRAM IS FORMING

Not being willing to renew their lease and awaiting the new downtown club which is proposed, the Philo club is bowing out of active existence. In the meantime there is an indebtedness to be met. Naturally, the club members wish to release their rooms free from any debt. Accordingly, the Philo members, together with a number of women who are responsive to the pleasure the Philo has afforded, are working towards a grand benefit at the Auditorium. This will come with Saturday, afternoon and night, of next week. Miss Marian Duncan has responded in the call for enlisting local talent. The matter is in the hands of successful professionals who met with the Waco women at the Riggins on Thursday for the purpose of making more definite the program. It is decided that this will be something of the amateur vaudeville, cabaret, music and burlesque. It is now for Waco to show appreciation for what the Philo has been in social life. Hospitality has been shown to men and women who represent the social life of our city during the past quarter of a century. It is now the time for reciprocating, and the Waco people will do this.

MRS. ROBERT TOLSON HOSTESS AT HUACO CLUB

The present week game of the Wednesday Euchre club came under the guise of novelty in that Mrs. Robert Tolson was hostess in the cozy library of the Huaco club. Several substitutes were present, and both the prizes fell there. The winners were the Mesdames Chester Story and J. P. Massey. For Mrs. Story there was a very attractive plate for the service of refreshes. Mrs. Massey captured the now coveted thread crocheted baskets for individual nuts. Mrs. Tolson's order from the club basket was the plate of salad with coffee and tid-bits. In affording this pleasant hour to her club, she entertained club and guest, the Misses Kate Friend and Greta Williams, with the Mesdames Peyton Randle, J. S. Hill, Layton Puckett, Harry Bell, Mattie D. Willis, Chapin Seely, Lon Sparks, Charles Hamilton, W. W. Seely, J. E. Allison, W. D. Rondthaler, George Jack, W. W. Pryor, George Hunter, Smith, Rives Halsey, Camille Franklin, R. G. Westland, Chester Story, J. P. Massey, A. B. Cowan, Frank Wheeler, Marian Herz.

Mrs. W. L. Boyd of College Station, who is due on a visit with her mother, Mrs. W. H. Deaton, Proctor avenue, has delayed her coming until the last of this month.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mitchell, Eighteenth and Sanger, have just returned from Gainesville. They were substituted invited into the Bridge Juniors is met and welcomed with the smile of hospitality. The substitute in some of the matrons' card clubs is not so much as greeted. An invited members into a club is for the time a guest and should be sought and welcomed, for the sake of the hostess who is a member, if not for common courtesy.

Mrs. J. R. Milam leaves within the next few days to attend the wedding of Miss Elizabeth Felder and A. P. Tension. Owing to the passing away of the groom's grandmother this wedding has been shorn of much in way of the brilliant detail at first planned.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Collier, with Mr. and Mrs. Lovelace, also Mrs. Collier, who came for the funeral of the little Collier son, have returned home to Mumford. Mrs. Homer Wells, who also came from El Paso, remains several weeks with her mother, Mrs. J. R. Collier, on Speight street.

It is too bad to tell, yet it is true that the younger girls in their card clubs are much more courteous to the stranger than are the matrons. A substitute invited into the Bridge Juniors is met and welcomed with the smile of hospitality. The substitute in some of the matrons' card clubs is not so much as greeted. An invited members into a club is for the time a guest and should be sought and welcomed, for the sake of the hostess who is a member, if not for common courtesy.

LOYALTY OF NATURALIZED CITIZENS.

There was an impressive scene in the United States district court room at Austin Monday when certificates of citizenship were granted to thirteen foreign born residents of this country. As the thirteen applicants—two of whom were born in Denmark, two in Germany, seven in Sweden, one in England and one in Switzerland—stood in a wide semi-circle before him, Judge Sheppard spoke to them of the beauties and advantages of American citizenship, of the great fundamental principles that underlie the government of the United States, and he urged them to take their privileges seriously and by studying themselves and teaching their children the laws of right and justice that are now theirs to help perpetuate the republic of the American people.

When asked by the judge what they would do if the United States should become involved in the European war, they exclaimed in unison that they would, if called to do so, shoulder arms under the Stars and Stripes.

We believe these newly made citizens of the United States spoke the truth when they declared their readiness to shoulder arms in defense of their adopted country. We believe the same thing is true of the hundreds of thousands of other foreign born citizens in this country. These men realize even more keenly than many native born citizens the meaning of liberty and freedom, for they have had experience in living under governments where liberty is restricted and opportunity limited. To the average native born the blessings of liberty are taken for granted and he rarely thinks about what it means to be free and to have opportunity to carve out his own destiny unhampered by law and unrestricted by caste discrimination.

It is but natural that immigrants should love the land of their birth and the people of their race, but if the test should be applied we believe that practically all of them would prove loyal to their adopted country and vie with its native born citizens in defending it against all enemies.

ONE BOY WHO HAS MADE MONEY.

The best possible evidence that McLennan county farmer boys can make money by joining the "Buy a Pig" movement inaugurated by the Waco Chamber of Commerce is contained in the fact that Vernon Quillian, a young lad of Ross, this county, began investing in pigs in the fall of 1913, with the small sum of $5, and already he has sold $116 worth of hogs. The boy won a prize of $10 for the best decorated vehicle in the Corn and Pig club parade at the Cotton Palace in 1913 and with half of this amount he purchased a pig and started a little swine business all his own.

It has required no special talent on this boy's part to succeed. He has been economical, industrious and wide-awake, watching his chances at buying pigs, as well as in selling the grown hogs. He has attended to business while other boys have loitered, and has made more clear money off his hogs in the little more than a year that he has been in the business than many adult farmers have made from their whole crop.

There are hundreds of other boys in the county who can do just as well as Vernon Quillian has done if they will try. And the chance for a trial under favorable circumstances was never so good as today, when the business men of the city are willing to provide the pigs and give the boys until fall to pay for them.

The Cotton Palace should follow the example of cotton farmers and practice diversification, with special emphasis on food and feed exhibits.

A STEP TOWARDS SINGLE TAX.

The committee on taxation of the Texas senate took a long step in the direction of single tax when it reported favorably a resolution submitting to a vote of the people a constitutional amendment authorizing Texas cities by majority vote to exempt buildings and improvements from taxation in whole or in part. This resolution was championed by Tax Commissioner Pastoriza of Houston and would legalize and extend to other cities the method followed by Houston in shifting the burden of taxation from buildings and personal property to land. The proposed constitutional amendment reads as follows:

"Any municipal corporation in the state of Texas, by ordinance duly ratified by a majority of the qualified voters voting at any election, may exempt from taxation, for municipal purposes, personal property, buildings and other improvements on land, in whole or in part."

Mr. Pastoriza is a single-taxer and believes that all the land belongs to all the people, and that the way to secure to each his just share of the products of the soil is to compel those who use it to pay into the public treasury its full rental value. As tax commissioner of Houston he has gone as far as he dared in making landowners pay the full rental value of the land they held title to. As The Public, a single-tax journal, says, Mr. Pastoriza shut his eyes tight when he looked for personal property, and opened them just a little bit when he looked for houses; but when he came to vacant lots his eyes were wide open.

Recently the opponents of the Pastoriza method have threatened to resist in the courts and the latter has appealed to the legislature for a vote of the people to give a constitutional status to his method of assessing taxes.

A companion measure to the one quoted above proposes a similar method of taxation for property lying outside of incorporated towns and cities. It reads as follows:

"Whereas, the farmers of the state of Texas have heretofore paid more than their just share of taxes; and

"Whereas, the farmer who improves and uses his land adds value to the adjoining vacant and unused land held for investment and speculative purposes; and

"Whereas, to tax the farmers' improved land more than the adjoining unused and vacant land of equal value as raw land is to impose a fine on the farmer for giving employment to labor on his own land and thereby increasing the value of his neighbor's land and benefiting the community generally; and

"Whereas, since unused agricultural lands held for investment and speculative purposes would be valueless but for the work of farmers in improving lands and in giving employment to labor on same, it is obviously unjust to tax the farmer more for using his land to the benefit of the community than the speculator is taxed for withholding his land from use to the injury of the community, and charging exorbitant sums in the form of purchase money for the privilege of use, the sums so charged usually far exceeding the valuation of the land as assessed for taxation; and

"Whereas, to impose upon the lands withheld from use their just burden of taxation will tend to cause such lands to be put to use, and thus enable the cultivators of the soil to own and control their own farms, and tend to solve the problem created by the growing number of tenants; therefore, be it

"Resolved, by the legislature of the state of Texas, That Article VIII. of the Constitution of the state of Texas be amended by adding thereto Section 20, to read as follows:

"Section 1. All building improvements and all other improvements including fencing and the clearing of land and breaking and reducing same to cultivation lying outside of the boundaries of incorporated cities, towns and villages, shall be exempt from all taxation, and all such lands shall be valued for taxation, whether improved or not, according to the site or raw land value of same, regardless of any improvements thereon."

The two resolutions are identical in policy and purpose, the only difference being that the one relating to assessment of property in cities permits a vote on the question of exempting personal property and buildings "in whole or in part," while the one relating to property outside cities makes such exemption absolute.

The El Paso platform recommends the exemption of cotton and woolen mills from taxation for a period of ten years, which in slight degree is a recognition of the principle declared in the resolutions quoted above. The advocates of the exemption of cotton and woolen mills from taxation will experience some difficulty in opposing a like exemption of capital invested in buildings and farm improvement without admitting the principle contended for by the supporters of these resolutions. If exemption from the burdens of taxation will encourage the building of cotton factories, it should follow that a like exemption would encourage the erection of buildings in cities and on farms and the making of improvements on farm land now unused.

The single tax advocates have maneuvered themselves into a very strong strategic position and the outlook for a state campaign on this issue is very bright.

The town of Alice went dry by a majority of three to one despite the fact that it is in Jim Wells county. The light is breaking in Southwest Texas.

The "land question" is moving closer. The Farmers' Union declared Tuesday in favor of a graduated land tax and the loaning of the state's credit to tenants for the purchase of homes.

EXECUTIVE PUNCH AND OTHER THINGS.

The state of Texas pays its governor a salary of four thousand dollars a year, gives him a mansion to live in and pays his grocery bills and the wages of his domestic servants. It may be a little indelicate to examine the governor's grocery bills and quibble over the payment of particular items but in no other way can the people check any incipient tendency of executives to depart from the standards of frugality, and simplicity which befits the chief officer of a democratic state. Such evidently is the view of those members of the legislature who are objecting to the payment of a deficiency warrant issued by former Governor Colquitt to the Driskill hotel of Austin for certain delicacies supplied to the executive mansion. That our readers may understand what the row in the legislature is about, we quote the particular bills that were objected to, as follows:

"Austin, Texas, Jan. 16, 1915.—Approved Jan. 15, 1915, for $142.40, payable out of appropriation No. W-14. O. B. Colquitt, Governor.

"Governor's Mansion to the Driskill, Dr., Jan. 1:
Fifteen gallons chicken salad.....$ 90.00
Five gallons olives.....7.50
Two cans Saratoga flakes.....2.00
Ten pounds almonds and cases for same 9.50
Twelve gallons coffee.....6.00
Sugar.....1.50
Fourteen pounds mints.....8.40
Lettuce.....5.00
Five waiters.....12.50
Cooks and helpers.....13.00

Total.....$155.40
"Less $3 for two gallons of olives returned, leaving a balance of $152.40."

Another statement contained the items: "Dec. 12, punch, $9; Jan. 1, punch, $67.50."

To illustrate the spirit of those opposed to the payment of these bills we quote from the speech of Representative Middleton in the house Wednesday: "There are over twenty thousand people in East Texas looking to Middleton for protection, and I will never vote to pay the Driskill hotel $200 for a silk-hat reception and chicken salad while thousands of people in this state are groping in poverty."

Later, in speaking to his motion to strike these items out of the appropriation bill, Mr. Middleton exclaimed: "How can I vote to keep the governor in luxury at the Driskill hotel on a sum that my family could live on a year out on the farm? I tell you what this means. It means more punch. Let the man that bought the punch pay the bill."

The members of the house are evidently in a dilemma. They refused by a vote of 57 to 61 to table Mr. Middleton's amendment, and then by a vote of 57 to 62 refused to adopt it.

In the end the state will pay the bill. The debtor holds a deficiency warrant for his claim, signed by the chief executive of the state, and the state will protect its credit by paying the bill. The incident, trivial though the amount involved may be, is not without value. It is notice to the present and future governors that they must not while at the capitol prelate about frugality and economy in public affairs and while at the mansion live in luxury at the expense of the state.

The people are willing that their governors shall be well fed; they are willing even that they may at times indulge in chicken salad, olives, Saratoga chips, mints and the like, but they are likely to draw the line at paying six dollars a gallon for salad and buying fifteen gallons of it at a time from a hotel. Such extravagant housekeeping is not in harmony with the principles of domestic science which the state is teaching in its university and public schools. As for the bills for "punch," future governors will probably be advised to buy "the makings" and concoct their own punch, paying for same out of their own pocket.

The incident also reminds us of the strange inconsistency which marked Governor Colquitt's course in dealing with appropriations, and especially with deficiency appropriations. He scrutinized all such measures closely and used the veto power freely, so freely indeed that he crippled some of the state's most useful institutions, and he turned a deaf ear to the pleadings of the managers of these institutions for deficiency allowances, pleading the heavy tax burdens of the people and the necessity for rigid economy in government. At the same time he exceeded the liberal allowance for his own expenses and when the appropriation was exhausted continued to pile up bills for luxuries for his own table and for social functions in his own household, and issued deficiency warrants therefor.

We doubt if the ambitious and inconsistent ex-governor has heard the last of the "et ceteras" in the deficiency appropriation for the executive mansion during his occupancy of it.

The Georgetown Sun, edited for many years by Major F. T. Roche, has been sold to Prof. John R. Allen, due to the assumption of the duties of postmaster by Major Roche.

P. E. Truly & Son have sold the Milford Weekly News to C. L. Phillips & Son, C. L. (Roy) Phillips assuming the role of editor.

Despite the oratory of the legislators, they claim that the capitol is not sufficiently heated.

There is an utter absence of fraternity between the champions and opponents of the "Fraternity" bill now before the legislature.

Special Representative of Ferguson.
Austin, Feb. 4.—Felix Martinez of El Paso, a director in the First National bank of that place and a member of the federal reserve bank board at Dallas, was today appointed by Governor Ferguson as his personal representative at the formal opening of the Panama-Pacific exposition on February 20, Governor Ferguson being unable to attend in person. Mr. Martinez is one of the prominent men of the southwest, having been appointed by President Wilson as special envoy from the United States to the republics of South America on the mission of obtaining the national expositions of these countries to the Panama-Pacific exposition.

Deny Break in Rates.
Galveston, Feb. 4.—A few steamship agents today denied that there had been any considerable break in ocean freight rates on export cotton, giving their February bookings in support of their contention. From other sources, however, it is confirmed that rates for future commitments are considerably below the high market obtained for space in steamers sailing in January and February. It appears also that space in American steamers is not being offered at the lower rates which are now obtainable but that offers are coming principally from owners of Norwegian steamships.

Charged With $6000 Robbery.
Stephenville, Feb. 4.—A robbery creating quite a sensation was committed on two old people near Lingleville on December 28th. The affair was kept as quiet as possible, while Sheriff Turnbow and his deputies traced the robbers. Three men hired a rig of a Dublin stable and drove near the scene, returning the rig late next morning. These three men bound Mr. Polk and his sister, Miss Jones, aged 60 and 65, chloroformed them, opened their trunk and carried away $600. Miss Jane gained consciousness about 11 o'clock, but her brother did not know anything until about 2 a. m. Their description of the three men, and the Dublin stable man's description, gave the clues, and today Sheriff Turnbow lodged safely in jail here two men. A third is being sought.

$10,000 Fire at Temple.
Temple, Feb. 4.—Property to the value of $10,000 was destroyed here in a fire of unknown origin last night that laid waste and in ashes the large frame residence of J. Freeman Moore on 13th street, and drove together with most of its contents, and a house mover's outfit that was in use about the place. The dwelling house, known as the Jonathan Moore home, and was one of the landmarks. It was being moved to a new location and had not yet been set upon its new foundations when the fire destroyed it. Partial insurance was carried. The cause of the fire is under investigation.

Plot to Wholesale Rob.
Brownsville, Feb. 4.—United States government officials here claim to have unearthed what they allege was a widespread plot to robby and possibly murder stretching from the Gulf coast to Arizona. One man has been arrested on a charge of sedition and today was bound over to the grand jury under bond of $5,000 after a hearing before the United States commissioner. Warrants were also issued for arrest of eight other men at various points along the border. Here the Arizona officers allege that men on both sides of the border are implicated.

Crane Co. Fine $75,000.
Groesbeck, Feb. 4.—It was said here Thursday just after noon that formal action in connection with the Crane company case would be taken at 3 o'clock. No notice had been given the court, but attorneys for the state connected with the case when the suit was filed, said that the matter would be taken up at the later hour. It was intimated that the basis of settlement would be that the defendant company would pay a fine of $75,000, and all costs of the suit thus far incurred.

Earl Deched Killed.
Elgin, Tex., Feb. 4.—Earl Deched, 25 years of age, was shot and killed here this morning at 8:30 a. m. The shooting took place in Arbuckle's barber shop on South Main street. Fuller Makes Confession.
Fort Worth, Feb. 4.—J. B. Fuller, into whose eyes sulphuric acid was thrown January 23, presumably at that time by highwaymen, confessed to detectives this morning that he had thrown it himself. He said he was despondent and blue. He will bear the scars for life and possibly may lose his sight.

Wilder Awaits Officer.
Leavenworth, Kan., Feb. 4.—J. H. Wilder of Waco, Texas, who was convicted at Waco of violating the bankruptcy laws and was refused admission to the federal penitentiary, today went to a hotel to await the coming of his son and a deputy United States marshal with the necessary commitment papers.

Chris House Acquitted.
Gonzales, Feb. 4.—The jury in the Chris House case acquitted the defendant, who was charged with being an accomplice to the murder of C. W. Parks on September 11. The case against Lonnie Parks, the son of the deceased, also charged with being an accomplice, was called this morning.

Two Killed, Five Hurt.
Galveston, Feb. 4.—Jesse Morris and Mike Stokes, track laborers for the Galveston Wharf company, were killed, and five other men more or less seriously injured today as a result of one string of freight cars being shunted against another string of cars under which the men were working.

JUDGES WANT FEEDING OF PRISONERS TAKEN OUT OF HANDS OF THE SHERIFF

and that if the two offices were combined in the smaller counties it would best serve the interests of the people. He described the way roads were built and maintained in his county, saying that road service out of the tax payers was usually wasted. Commissioner J. A. Sweatt of Denton county, advocated the use of engines for road work in preference to mules. He said that there was a great saving in wet weather as it cost nothing to feed the engine. Instead of stopping for two hours at noon to feed the engine, he said that with an engine all you had to do was to give twenty minutes for dinner and save all that time. He favored making all men subject to road work who owned property, regardless of age.

The first thing of road grade the road up, said Commissioner William Hickey of Bell county, who said that both engines and mules could be used to advantage. The salvation of the roads, he urged, was to get them above the water line. "We will have dirt roads with us always, like the poor," he said, "and we must fix to take care of them." Judge Ben Randalls of Pecos, Reeves county, said that he had come all the way to Waco to hear the discussion of this subject. He described the alkali flats in his county which are buggy, where they look solid and said that whenever a man got stuck he came to town and looked him up. Engines cannot be used on this class of ground, he said, and mules must be used. He spoke of the torrential rains which frequently came and said that the building of roads in his county was a serious problem. He told what had been done to date and said that if the dump could be built above the water line and the water trapped out the rest was easy.

Judge Tom Beauchamp of Paris said he sympathized with those who were having road trouble and invited them to move back to East Texas. Judge J. E. Copeland of Vernon said that he had been trying to learn just what a sand-clay road should cost. He said that in Wilbarger county they had cost all the way from $300 to $1,200 a mile. Good roads will tend to keep the boys and girls on the farm, said Geo. D. Marshall, government road expert, who invited the County Judges and Commissioners' Association to meet with the Texas Good Roads Association at the summer of roads, held at the college at College Station, and said that it is best for road making purposes, said Judge H. J. Passmore of Goliad county. A coarse grain sand was declared best for mixing with clay. He told of experiences he had encountered in his county.

At the request of the members, Mr. Marshall gave scientific methods of building different kinds of dirt roads. Prof. R. L. Morrison, head of the highway department of the state A. and M. college at College Station, the university of Texas, also discussed the matter of dirt roads of various kinds. Convict labor on public roads was favored by Commissioner Ed Vann of Martin, who said he had been in Texas since 1887 and had found that "the more work the better." Long tables were prepared in the Y. M. B. L. rooms last night and heaped with savory viands of all delicacies. Judge Denton acted as toastmaster and his guests and members of the local recreation committee responded with after-dinner speeches. The luncheon was in charge of the entertainment committee of the Y. M. B. L., C. H. Anderson, chairman.

Coroner's Jury Says Killing of Doctor Wholly Justifiable

Augusta, Ga., Feb. 4.—The killing of Dr. A. N. Culberson, who was shot to death early today near Evans, Ga., when, it is alleged, he attempted to escape from a citizens' posse, was declared justifiable by a coroner's jury which investigated the killing late today.

Culberson was charged with having assaulted the wife of a resident of Evans, a village near this city. He was located at a farm house, which was being surrounded by the posse when, it is said, Culberson, armed with a revolver, appeared at a door and attempted to escape. He was shot to death.

A formal verdict of justifiable homicide was returned by the jury.

BOARD LISTENS TO TECHNICAL TALKS

ONE-TIME FIREMAN SAYS BIG LOCOMOTIVES HAVE NOT INCREASED WORK.

TON OF COAL EVERY HOUR

Tests Show, According to Testimony, Handling of Fuel and Labor Necessary.

Chicago, Feb. 4.—The board of arbitration charged with the duty of adjusting the wages of 64,000 engineers and firemen employed on 98 western railroads listened today to a technical discussion of coal and the handling of it.

The witness was W. J. Tollerton, at one time a fireman but now mechanical superintendent of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railroad. His basic contention was that large locomotives have not increased the labor of the engineers for the reason that superheaters now being introduced generally have reduced coal consumption 30 per cent, thus lightening the extent that they have more efficient engines.

One of the demands of the men is that assistant firemen be provided on locomotives weighing 185,000 pounds or more on drivers. On the Rock Island, witness said, there were 175 locomotives weighing slightly under 185,000 pounds, but each of them will weigh more than that when equipped with superheaters, which weigh 4,000 pounds.

"The effect of this will be, if the demands of the men are granted, that we would have to furnish an additional fireman to handle thirty per cent less coal before and these firemen would earn higher wages because of the increased weight of the locomotive," Mr. Tollerton said.

Witness said tests showed that firemen handle about 175 pounds of coal an hour and are actively engaged in their duties about a third of the time they are on their engines.

One thousand dollars, according to modern practice, is added to the cost of each new locomotive for devices designed to lighten the labor of the crew, witness said.

"These items," said Mr. Tollerton, "do not increase engine efficiency, but do decrease the work of the men."

The extra cost to the Rock Island on the last eighty-five engines bought was $85,000, or the cost of four new engines, he said.

Dan Cupid Plays a Prank on Parents

Football and Cupid worked hand-in-hand in a little romance that culminated yesterday afternoon when H. Earl Fuqua, 21 years old, of Amarillo, and Miss Al Lee Benham, 20 years old, 1617 Speight street, slipped away to the First Baptist parsonage and were quietly married. Rev. J. M. Dawson performing the ceremony. The groom is the only son of W. H. Fuqua of Amarillo, reputed to be several times a millionaire. The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Benham. The groom was a member of the Baylor football team and his wife was taking special work in the university.

The romance had its beginning but a few months ago. Young Fuqua suffered a broken leg last fall which incapacitated him for work on the gridiron. He went back home to Amarillo to ride among his father's cattle. But his heart was still in Waco. He decided that he needed treatment for the injury which could be obtained only in the metropolis of the Brazos valley.

Two or three weeks ago he reached Waco for "treatment." He saw his sweetheart frequently. Yesterday afternoon the two were married. From Hillsboro the young people telegraphed to Mr. and Mrs. Benham the brief message, "We are married and on our way to Amarillo."

Working Boys Hear Interesting Addresses

Showing the boys how, though minus both his arms, he manages to run an automobile, write his name, make his pocket change, use a knife and fork, put on his collar and tie, lace his shoes, hold his presto key and do numerous other things as well or better than the average man with full use of two arms. Judge Quintin D. Darley, county judge of Dallas county, last night gave the members of the Working Boys' club one of the most interesting talks they have recently heard. He lost his arms when he was twenty-one, but not daunted by this, he began his efforts to devise a means for overcoming that handicap and has succeeded.

And he went into details on the matter. He told the boys, for the lesson that they can learn from perseverance. Other points stressed by him that each boy should keep himself clean mentally, morally and physically, take the best possible education, be honest and courteous, acknowledge their mistakes and correct them. His address was greatly enjoyed.

J. D. Isaacs, ex-captain of the football team at Baylor, preceded Judge Darley, giving the boys a few pointers on how to become athletes. To succeed in athletics, he said, they must not smoke, drink, keep late hours at night, or keep other irregular habits, but must play the game fairly, be honorable, and use their fair play. To enjoy a game it must be won fairly and squarely, he concluded. This address likewise was well received.

Steamer Crushed by Ice.

Chicago, Feb. 4.—The steamship Iowa of the Goodrich Transit company, was crushed by ice cakes and sank today three miles off this port. The crew, numbering about 45 men, and one passenger, made their way over the ice floes to shore. A score of other ships are ice-bound in the great fields that line the west shore of Lake Michigan, but the owners tonight said that none of the boats was in danger.

INQUIRY OF STRIKE AT CHROME STARTED

FEDERAL COMMISSION INAUGURATES PROBE INTO THE EMPLOYEES' WALKOUT.

THE INDUSTRIAL CONDITIONS

Witness Testifies He Tried to Support Family on $1.60 Per Day.

New York, Feb. 4.—An inquiry into the strike at Chrome and Roosevelt, N. J., plants of the American Agricultural Chemical company, which resulted in the recent shooting and killing of strikers, was today inaugurated by the federal commission on industrial relations. The commission had before it one of the strikers and one of the directors of the company.

The striker was Antoni Waiter, who testified he tried to support a wife and five children on a wage of $1.60 a day and failed. Even with additional money his wife was able to earn he could not pay for the bare necessities of life, he said. So he ran into debt.

The director was A. Barton Hepburn, who also is chairman of the board of directors of the Chase National bank of New York City, and one of the trustees of the Rockefeller foundation.

Mr. Hepburn said he knew nothing about the condition of the employees of the chemical company and he had never visited the plants in New Jersey. He first learned the strikers had been shot when he read in the newspapers. He then called up an official of the company and was told that the men were on strike "for more wages and shorter working hours."

The official also told him that he believed the strike would be of short duration as there were many men looking for the places the strikers had vacated.

As a stockholder the witness said he did not consider himself responsible for the conditions at Roosevelt. He defended the Rockefeller foundation, its purposes and policies and said he did not know that among the securities held by it were those of the American Chemical company.

Other witnesses today were George W. Kirchwey, professor of law at Columbia university; Morris Hillquit, socialist writer, and John R. Lawson, executive board member of the United Mine Workers of America. Professor Kirchwey gave it as his opinion that there was some doubt that the charters of the Rockefeller and Carnegie foundations were constitutional as they failed properly to define the scope and purposes of the institutions.

Mr. Hillquit assailed the philanthropic foundations as being "at the bottom, business enterprises," founded by capitalists not to relieve the suffering of their fellowmen, but as a means of strengthening their own social and economic position. While the Rockefeller relief ships for Belgium were being loaded, he said, thousands of American workers were suffering from hunger within one mile of 26 Broadway.

THEATRES

COZY.

Cinderella.

"Cinderella" at the Cozy theatre is holding up the high mark for attendance set by "The Prince Chap," and the second chapter of Besse Dainty's career in Waco promises to be even more successful than the first.

One of the prettiest scenes in the play is that in which, during the little girl's dream, the fairy godmother appears and transforms the child into a princess. In less than half a minute the ragged little girl is arrayed in a beautiful costume—and the change is made before the very eyes of the audience. Then suddenly appears a handsome black pony and a flower bedecked chariot and the princess of the chimney corner is away to the king's ball.

"Cinderella" is not a child's play. It is a serious little story of an abused stepchild. All of the play showing the scenes connected with the fairy story of Cinderella are part of a dream the little one has when she is left at home to keep house while her stepisters and stepmother go to a neighboring place of entertainment. Incidentally, the piece has the best costuming ever shown here by the Besse Dainty company. The cast has been increased to twenty-five for this piece and all are richly and properly clothed.

The real and the unreal are very prettily blended in "Cinderella." Of course in the real part of it there is a handsome young man who insists upon admiring the youngest and prettiest girl in the household in spite of the efforts of her older sisters to attract his attention to themselves. And when the dream comes and the little girl has become the heroine of the fairy tale, the handsome young man is, of course, the prince charming who dances with her at the fairy ball. Miss Dainty makes a very charming Cinderella and couldn't possibly look prettier than she does when she enters the ball room as the strange princess.

The play proper is so short that a curtain raiser is being played before the first act. This bit is a screamingly funny farce in one act and is guaranteed to be alone worth the admission. It leaves the audience in a very receptive mood for the remainder of the evening's entertainment.

A new program of late musical successes is being played by the Cozy's seven-piece orchestra.

QUEEN.

Marie Doro, in "The Morals of Marcus."

Had William J. Locke ever written his famous novel and play, "The Morals of Marcus," for Marie Doro, he could not have improved upon the theme or the role, with their vast treasure of opportunity charmingly congenial to the talents and mannerisms of the youthful star. The dramatic oddity and originality of the charming play is further illuminated by the sweet wistfulness and captivating personality of Miss Doro. Her delicate beauty and appealing tenderness make her an ideal interpreter of the role of Carlotta, the slender and fascinating little refugee from a Turkish harem, and the central character of the play.

The portrayal calls for the greatest test of artistic ability and personal charm, for although at the inception of the story, Carlotta is a dainty, mischievous, insensuous slip of a girl, she develops rapidly as the action progresses into a woman with the profoundest depths of feeling and unquenchable love, and the interpretation requires versatility and trained intelligence to a marked degree, of which Miss Doro is the abundant possessor. Her immediate success in the role in the stage presentation of the play stamped her as an artiste of remarkable attainment and established her firmly as an American star of the highest rank.

The development of the plot unfolds one of the most delightful love stories that the stage has produced in years. The element of comedy is predominant, but there are many moments of pathos in the play, that effectively dramatize the truth that all wisdom is folly, save only that which has germinated in trials and sufferings.

The entire supporting cast is exceptionally well chosen, and in connection with the elaborate settings and the varied atmosphere of the subject, provide a film story that will not only be entertaining but long remembered.

DU BARRY

At Hippodrome.

Mrs. Leslie Carter in her famous play, "Du Barry," proved a great drawing card at the Hippodrome theatre all day yesterday. The people of Waco, like the people of any city in this country, enjoy the very first-class entertainments, and one would be wide of the mark who did not consider Mrs. Leslie Carter or her play, Du Barry, or the George Kleine company, as first-class.

The devotees mentioned that the scenes of this famous play are actually taken in France, they have recognized numerous places shown in the picture. It is well to mention here that anything produced by George Kleine will be found to be exactly as it should be; to travel several thousand miles to obtain a correct setting for a scene is nothing unusual with this foremost picture producer.

The feminine portion of the audience yesterday had much to note in the way of wonderful creations in gowns, dresses and jewelry. It is stated that one dress worn by Mrs. Leslie Carter cost more than $1500, while the value of three other gowns shown is in excess of $2500.

The same able cast that made the play famous is shown in this motion picture and every lover of good entertainment should make it a point to see this wonderful photo play.

Plan to Break Up Meeting. San Antonio, Tex., Feb. 4.—Word reached Arturo M. Elias, former consul general to Texas for the Mexican government during the Diaz and Huerta administrations, today that efforts will be made by Carranza sympathizers to break up the peace conference to be held in San Antonio next week. Mr. Elias and his associates on the conference arrangements committee took immediate steps to prevent this possibility. It was learned that delegates would be sent to the convention under the guise of being in thorough accord with the plan to bring peace to Mexico and which they received recognition of the chairman would propose motions which would be out of accord with the convention policy. These motions, Mr. Elias understands, will be calculated to cause a row in the convention.

Advice received today by the Carranza agency here told of an unsuccessful attempt of the Villa forces to evacuate Monterrey. It was said that they were driven back into the city by the Carranza troops surrounding that eastern metropolis.

Fighting at Monterrey. Brownsville, Feb. 4.—Carranza officials today in Matamoros, across the border from here, said they had official advice that fighting had been going on for six days at Monterrey between attacking Carranza troops and Villa forces, which occupy the city. GREAT BRITAIN'S WATERS DECLARED WAR ZONE, AFTER FEBRUARY 18, BY GERMANY but as British territorial, Australians and New Zealanders are receiving their baptism of fire in Egypt and as there is much interest in the attempts of the Turkish to move a big army across the desert, the operations in that part of the world are attracting a great deal of attention in England.

The efforts of the German field marshal, Von Hindenburg, to stop the advance of the Russians in East Prussia and the Carpathians by compelling them to reinforce their center west of Warsaw has culminated in a desperate attack. Regiment after regiment supported by great masses of artillery has been flung against the Russian lines, and both sides claim to have inflicted heavy losses on their opponents and each reports progress. It is apparent, however, that while the Germans are making every effort to get near Warsaw, the Russians, on the present are satisfied to hold their positions and inflict as heavy losses on their adversaries as possible. Near Bolimow the fighting has been fiercer and continues for weeks and the Russians claim to have taken one of the villages for which the armies have been contending.

Meanwhile the Germans have sent strong reinforcements south to check the advance of the Russians, who are reported to be south of the main range of the Carpathians and thus again are overlooking the plains of Hungary. The Russian emperor left for the front today while the German emperor is expected to proceed there after he concludes his visit to Wilhelmshaven, where he has been inspecting the fleet and bestowing iron crosses on the crew of the submarine U-21, which sank three British merchant steamers in the Irish sea. In the west the artillery continues to play the major part. Each side makes occasional attacks which, according to official reports, are invariably repulsed. Although not officially mentioned, it is reported that the British warships again are bombarding the German positions on the Belgian coast while the airmen of the allies are busy dropping bombs on the German trenches at points of concentration.

The surrender of Lieutenant Colonel Kemp and other rebels who have been receiving arms and support from the Germans in Southwest Africa, and with whom they have recently quarreled and the expected surrender of Lieutenant Colonel Maritz, who has been able to remain in the field by the same means, probably will bring the South African rebellion and enable General Louis Botha to pursue his design of invading German territory in Africa.

It is officially announced that 1,165 British officers have been commissioned from the ranks since the outbreak of the war. Canada Parliament Open. Ottawa, Ont., Feb. 4.—The parliament of Canada was opened this afternoon by the governor general,

Prayer for Everybody.

Teach me that sixty minutes make one hour, sixteen ounces make one pound, and one hundred cents a dollar.

Help me to live so that I can lie down at night with a clear conscience, without a gun under my pillow, and untroubled by faces of those to whom I have brought pain.

Grant, I beseech thee, that I may earn my bread honestly, and in doing thereof that I may not stick the knife where it does not belong.

Guide me that I may not be a blind man to the faults of the other fellow, but reveal to me mine own.

Keep me young enough to laugh with the children and to lose myself in their play.

And when comes the smell of flowers and the tread of soft steps and the crushing of the horse's wheels in the gravel out in front of my place, make the ceremony short and the epiphany simple. "Here Lies a Man."—Homer Keen.

NATIONAL BOARD REVERSED.

Cincinnati, Feb. 4.—The national board was reversed in a finding handed today by the national baseball commission today when the latter body made an award of $291.63 against the Newport News club of the Virginia State league in favor of former Manager Harry Mathews of that club. Mathews' claim for salary from August 1 last, the day he was released, until September 12, 1914, the day his contract is alleged to have expired, was disallowed by the national board. Our fire has reached Convoys and assembling points, the enemy's aeroplanes are ready to be dispatched."

FIELD TRIALS CONCLUDED.

Houston, Feb. 4.—The first annual Texas Field Trials were concluded here today with the completion of the open all-age stakes. It was decided to abandon the subscription stakes, owing to the impossibility of using a new course and the condition of the old.

The final running of the all-age resulted in Lewis C. Munster, a Spaniard, champion runner-up, winning, and W. D. Gilchrist, his handler, cleaned up $500 by winning both high places. He is owned by E. J. Roe of Birmingham.

Second place was given to Bowena, a pointer bitch owned by G. W. Overall.

Third place was divided between John Proctor, former national champion, owned by A. L. Curtis and Security, a pointer owned by Pace & Roe.

Carranza Wants Spaniard.

Washington, Feb. 4.—General Carranza has called upon the Spanish minister at Mexico City on threat of deportation, to surrender within 24 hours Angel Del Caso, a Spaniard, who claims to be an agent of the Spanish government, but whom Carranza charges with being active in the service of General Villa. This information was received today in private telegrams from Mexico City which states that Del Caso is supposed to be hiding in the Spanish legation.

The incident recalls General Carranza's experience last September with the Belgian minister to Mexico, who because of the severity of his representations concerning Belgian concessions was ordered deported and notwithstanding the intervention of American Consul Silliman and the Brazilian minister was compelled to leave the country.

While Eliseo Arrondedo, head of the Carranza agency here, declined to discuss Del Caso's whereabouts he issued a statement based on advice from Mexico City.

Johnson Home Burns.

Fire destroyed the residence of William Johnson, 1529 Homan street, at 3 o'clock this morning. The family awakened to find the building in flames and escaped with only a few belongings. All of the furnishings were lost. The building was a story and half frame.

CALL ISSUED FOR TRACK SQUAD.

Georgetown, Feb. 4.—This morning in the University chapel Coach Rix made his first call for track candidates for the coming spring schedule. A fair-sized number have reported and will work out at 4 o'clock each afternoon. Many more are expected out as soon as the present weather moderates, and quite a few will devote their time to the path as soon as the present basketball season ends.

B. S. Graham will lead the Methodists on the cinder path this spring. Graham is serving for the third consecutive season as captain of the track squad, the only man to have held such an honor in the history of the institution. "Cheaby" was the winner of all sprints in the state meet and the corn show meet last year, and was first man in all dual meets.

The 100, the 220 and the broad jump are his events. The track schedule has not been completed although three meets already have been arranged for. The dual meet in Waco March 28, a triangular meet between Texas, Baylor and Southwestern on April 14 at Austin, and Southwestern will be represented at the state meet at Waco on May 8. He also intends to send representatives to the S. W. L. A. A. meet to be held in Austin.

FOOTBALL COMMITTEE TO MEET.

New York, Feb. 4.—The annual meeting of the intercollegiate football rules committee will be held in this city tomorrow. The fourteen members representing the majority of the colleges and universities of the country are not expected to advocate any radical amendments or new rules, but there will be a number of changes in the phrasing of the code in order to obtain a clearer interpretation.

Suggestions and discussion relative to the forward pass, numbering of players, setting back of goal posts, the kick-out following touchdown and substitution of players will occupy the attention of the committee during the two-day session. Reports from all portions of the United States last session convinced the members of the committee that the game as played under the present rules was satisfactory to both participants and spectators.

E. K. Hall, Dartmouth, is chairman, and Walter Camp, Yale, secretary of the committee. The members include Harris from the Cope, Sewanee.

HUACO BOWLING RESULTS.

The bill was introduced by Speaker Sawyer, whose home is at Hot Springs. It now goes to the senate. The bill would put racing under control of a commission to be appointed by the governor. Supporters of the bill admit that its purpose is to restore racing to Hot Springs, which has been abandoned since the 1907 legislature passed a bill prohibiting betting on horse races.

NEW MEDICAL BOARD SCORES B. COLLEGES

ASSERTION MADE THAT THEY DO NOT COME UP TO STANDARD REQUIRED BY STATE.

DALLAS MAN IS PRESIDENT

Dr. J. T. Crowe Elected to Head Organization—Joint Session of Old and New Boards Held Here.

Texas Class B, medical colleges came in for criticism by members of the state medical board in session here yesterday at the Riggins. Committees will be appointed by Dr. T. J. Crowe of Dallas, who was elected president of the new board, to visit the medical colleges of the state and see that their courses come up to the standard required by the board.

There are three Class B, medical colleges in the state, T. C. U. at Fort Worth, Southern Methodist University at Dallas and Baylor Medical college at Dallas. The State Medical college at Galveston is a Class A school. For several years the medical board has been attempting to bring Class B colleges up to the standard, and yesterday it was decided to use strenuous methods to do this. No official statement was given out following the meeting yesterday relative to this, beyond the fact that the colleges will be forced to improve their work. The committees who will visit the colleges have not yet been announced.

Dr. W. B. Collins of Lovelady, member of the old board, attended the sessions yesterday. He has recently been appointed state health officer. Besides the election of Dr. Crowe, president, Dr. M. P. Bettencourt of Mart was elected vice president, Dr. M. P. McElhannon of Belton, secretary-treasurer. Dr. McElhannon is a brother-in-law of Governor J. E. Ferguson.

The medical board of examiners is appointed every two years by the governor. The old board, appointed by Colquitt adjourned yesterday sine die and the new board took up the work. Members of the new board who attended the meeting were: Drs. J. J. Williams, Groesbeck; M. P. Bettencourt, Mart; H. B. Mason, J. S. McClevey, Temple; M. P. McElhannon, Belton; J. O. McLean, Fort Worth; W. C. Swain, Dallas; Mrs. Morrow of Austin, Crowe and Scotchman of Dallas are also members of the new board.

Members of the old board who were present were: Drs. G. L. Baber, president, Winnsboro; J. F. Bailey, vice president, Waco; W. L. Crosthwaite, secretary-treasurer, Waco; T. J. Crowe, S. L. Scotchman, Dallas; E. M. Wood, Georgetown; E. B. Osborne, Cleburne; H. C. Morrow, Austin; W. B. Collins, Lovelady.

The examinations of applicants for licenses to practice medicine in Texas will be held on the date set by law, the fourth Tuesday of June at Austin. The naming of the place is left to the board.

At a joint session of the old and new boards yesterday morning the appointment of Dr. W. B. Collins to the office of state health officer was unanimously endorsed.

CATARRH CAUSED BY A GERM

Must Be Destroyed Before Catarrh Itself Can Be Cured, Says Specialist. Wonderful Results from Breathing Medicated Air.

Medicine taken into the stomach will never cure catarrh. And neither will the sprays, douches, lotions, creams and other temporary remedies that so many catarrh victims make a habit of using. To cure catarrh so it won't come back you must first drive from your body the millions of germs that are flourishing in the mucous membrane of your nose and throat and are causing the disease.

There is a preparation which does this called Hyomei (pronounced High-o-mey). It is a germ killing vaporizer formed from the purest oil of Eucalyptus, combined with other healing and antiseptic ingredients. You breathe Hyomei through the mouth and nose by means of a little hard rubber inhaler which draws forth a fine mist of the medicated germicide into your nostrils and throat, kills the catarrh germs that lodge there, soothes, reduces and heals the swollen, inflamed membrane, stops the discharge and opens up the clogged nose and air passages in a truly wonderful way. It gives blessed relief in five minutes from catarrhal distress of every kind, and if you make a practice of breathing Hyomei for a few minutes each day for just a few weeks not only will all the symptoms of catarrh vanish but the disease itself will be a thing of the past. No one need try or buy Hyomei on pure faith. Powers-Kelly Drug Co. and many other leading drug stores in Waco and vicinity sell it with the positive guarantee that it must cure catarrh or that the money will be refunded. Hyomei is very inexpensive and with this protecting guarantee behind your purchase there is absolutely no reason why any sufferer from Catarrh should not give it a fair trial.

For years Mr. Marks has been an expert about millinery lines. Out of all his experience he has gathered the store was opened yesterday is the result. It is something new for Waco, and something that the women of Waco will appreciate more and more as days go by.

Attendance at Ad Convention Will Be Biggest in History

Cisco has an Ad club and will be represented at the state convention in Waco next Tuesday and Wednesday, according to information received yesterday by W. V. Crawford, secretary-treasurer of the state organization.

A "Truth Sunday" exhibit has been arranged by Gus W. Thomason of Dallas, state president, for the advertising exhibit session.

Texas ad men celebrated Truth Sunday last year by writing advertisements on truth and going to church in a body in the cities where ad club are located. Newspaper publicity of this event and some of the displays are included in the display.

The secretary of the El Paso Ad club has telegraphed that fifteen men are coming to the convention from that city. Only eight were expected until the receipt of this telegram. More interest is being manifested in the Waco convention each day, according to the papers of the state, and a record-breaking attendance now seems assured.

CALOMEL MAKES YOU SICK, UGH!

"DODSON'S LIVER TONE" BETTER THAN CALOMEL AND CANNOT SALIVATE.

Calomel loses you a day! You know what calomel is. It's mercury; quicksilver. Calomel is dangerous. It crashes into your bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

When you feel bilious, sluggish, constipated and all knocked out and believe you need a dose of dangerous calomel just remember that your druggist sells for 50 cents a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone, which is entirely vegetable and pleasant to take and is a perfect substitute for calomel. It is guaranteed to start your liver without stirring you up inside, and cannot salivate.
